Students Enlightened???

In one wing of school was a place where experiments were performed, dissections took place, plants were grown, animals were trained, wonders were explained, AND students were enlightened.

Impossible? Not with the help of Charles Geheb, Lindsey Hartshorn, or David Hanna. A variety of classes were taught ranging from Basic Biology to Advanced Chemistry and Physics.

No matter what the class, the science wing was an area where students could withdraw from busy school life to explore the wonders of science.

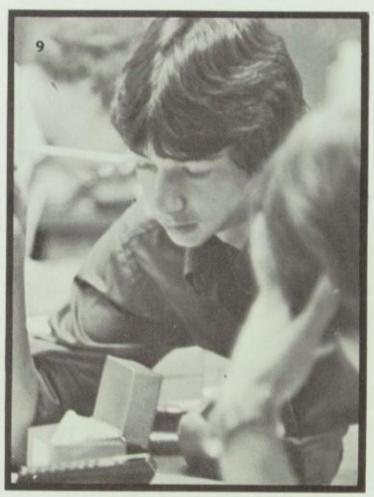

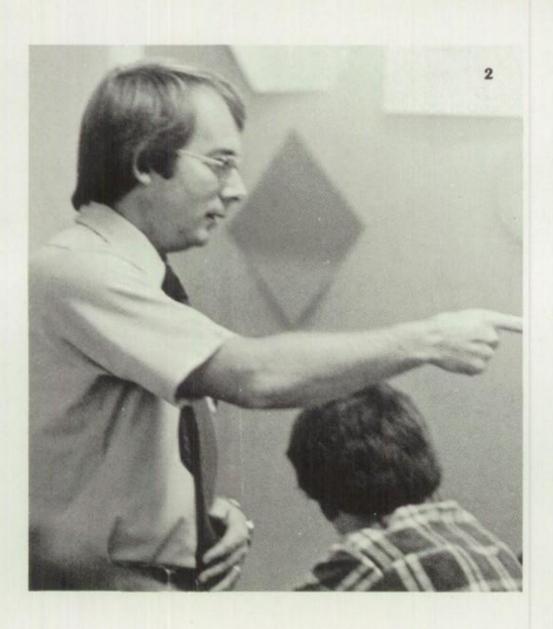

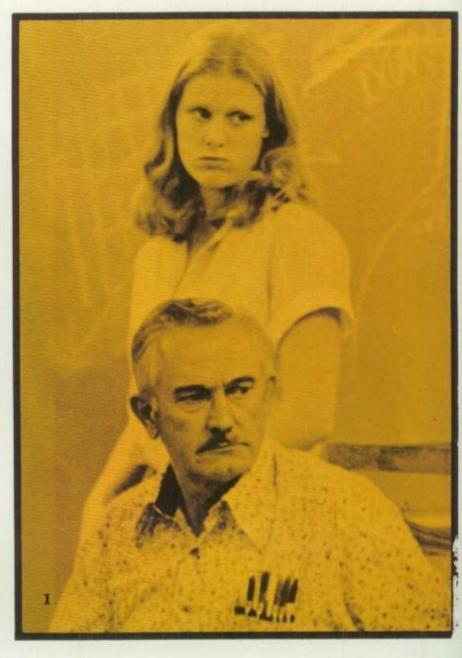

1. A Physics test leaves Tim Murray in deep thought. 2. Rrrrrbit ... Croak! 3. Junior Sherri Duff finds something amusing in the school greenhouse. 4. MATHEMATICS CONTRIBUTES TO STUDENT KNOWLEDGE

"Behind every great man stands a woman." Melinda Gray demonstrates this saying with Mr. Wilcox. 2. Making an important point clear to his students, Mr. Tyner emphasizes a detail of a math lesson. 3. Great excitement is shown on the face of Mr. Mathis as another question is asked. 4. Checking his homework, Rob Strasser appears to be in deep thought. 5. A math class smiles in interest about a problem raised in class. 6. Hud Pressler and Denise Mohler give their undivided attention to their teacher.

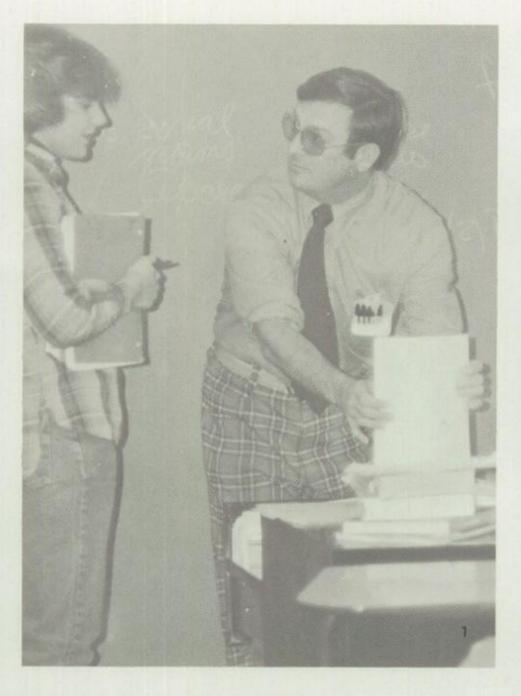

Mathematics played a major role in the lives of students — in and out of school. Mr. Robert Tyner, Mr. Stu Mathis, and Mr. John Wilcox, all contributed to the knowledge of their students and their teaching skills enhanced the understanding of each student.

With a large variety of math courses available to choose from, students of DCHS were better prepared for all walks of life — whether it was Basic Math, Calculus, or Trigonometry — each area presented a challenge.

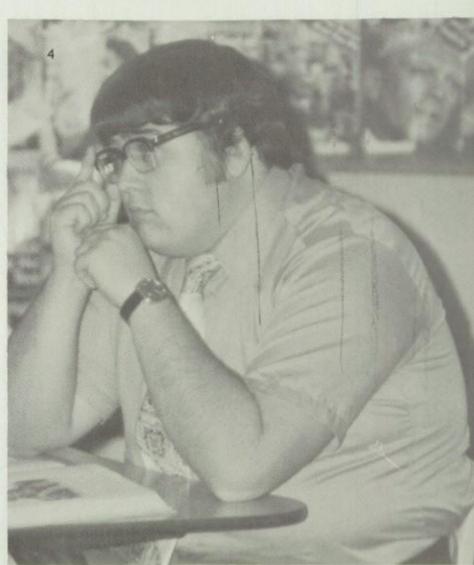

AS THE WORLD

As we went through high school, we found out why Social Studies were an important part of our education. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors discovered in World History, US History, and Government that our past was full of a lot of mistakes that have been repeated a number of times. If we learn from them, chances are we won't repeat them again. Too, many events and ideas of time have been beneficial to mankind and they have needed more repetition. Then, when the present generation is running things, the world might be a better place to be by utilizing knowledge from both the good and the bad of the past. Man changes as the world turns. klg

GRAMMAR AND SPEECH
... CONCEPTS OF TRANSCENDENTALISM AND THE ART OF WRITING ...

"To be or not to be?" that was one of the many questions students in English classes were asked. Those immortal words of William Shakespeare were spoken years long ago, but today they are still studied in the classroom as a form of English.

The English department at Delphi Community High School featured a wide variety of subjects ranging from grammar and speech to the concepts of transcendentalism and the art of writing.

English studies were under the direction of Department Chairperson Mrs. Laura Baker, and conducted by such teachers as Mrs. Earleen Alvarez, Mr. Morris Buck, and Mrs. Julia Heiner. Miss Linda Lewellen and Mr. Abel Alvarez also taught in the department five periods of English per day.

SELF EXPRESSION IN MANY AREAS OF DESIGN OPEN TO CREATIVE STUDENTS

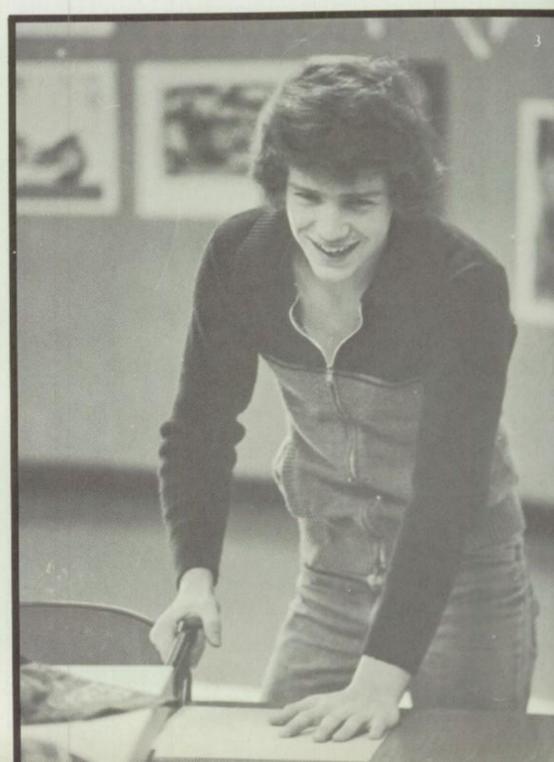

Rembrandt, Heiner, Michaelangelo, Picasso, Sanders ... These are only a few of the names common to DCHS Art classes. Four years of art were offered to students wishing to expand their artistic abilities. The art lab was a place where students could put all their imaginative ideas together to express themselves in a very personal way. Whether it was a painting, a piece of pottery, or a mobile, every piece of art created in the department was indeed a masterpiece in its own way.

WORKING FOR SELF RELIANCE

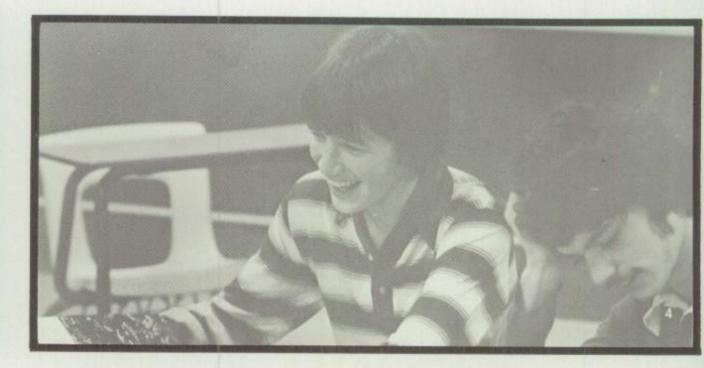

MORE JOBS — BIGGER MARKET

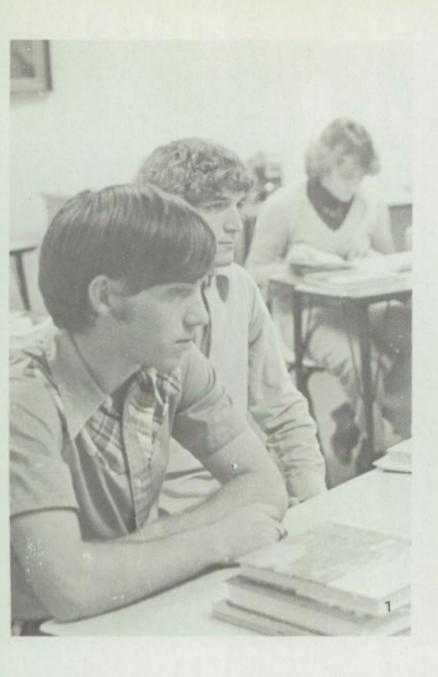

The primary reason for the PVE, Pre-Vocational Education Program was to provide help toward employability and self support for students who needed specialized curriculum. It helped prepare these students to become more eligible for a wide selection of jobs in the future employment market.

1. These students anxiously wait for class to start. 2. A good explanation always helps to better your understanding. 3. Trying to answer a question, Barb Shanks becomes unsure of herself. 4. Fully interested in what is going on, Vicki Rader watches the teacher.

Interdisciplinary Cooperative Education was a class one might take for a head start in a career of their choosing. Students started the class with a job in which they worked at least 15 hours a week. They learned about finding the right jobs, buying real estate, and other matters pertaining to careers in general.

Health Occupations dealt with students interested in careers in the health field. One semester was of classroom work where they learned of the functions of the human body and another semester of on-the-job training where they actually worked with professional health care people.

BODIES & MINDS STIMULATED

Warm-up exercises like jumping jacks, situps, pushups, and running laps were among the calisthentics that opened P.E. classes. Volleyball, basketball, swimming, and football were among many of the team sports engaged in as part of the physical education department's daily program.

Appropriate exercises to strengthen the body and stimulate the mind put student energy to good use in the classes taught by Mrs. Carol Hartshorn, Miss Sally Knight, Mr. Phil Brummett and Department Head Tony Berto.

Mr. Robert Gordon handled the swimming aspect of the cirriculum. He put together the second annual OLYMPIAD of P.E. swim classes and organized successful competitive teams with such wild names as Melissa's Marvelous Mermaid and Benner's Barracudas.

Reading fairytales in German, playing scrabble and buzz, racing at the chalkboard, practicing situations in preparation for a trip to Mexico or Germany ...! Sounds like a good time! Auto Mechanics, Building Trades, Drafting, Electricity, Graphic Arts, Metals, Power, and Woods these classes formed the line up for the Industrial Arts Department. The brain challenged the hand to coordinate and develop a well styled visual product.

The IA complex was set up to handle both compact cars and trucks to keep them in proper running order.

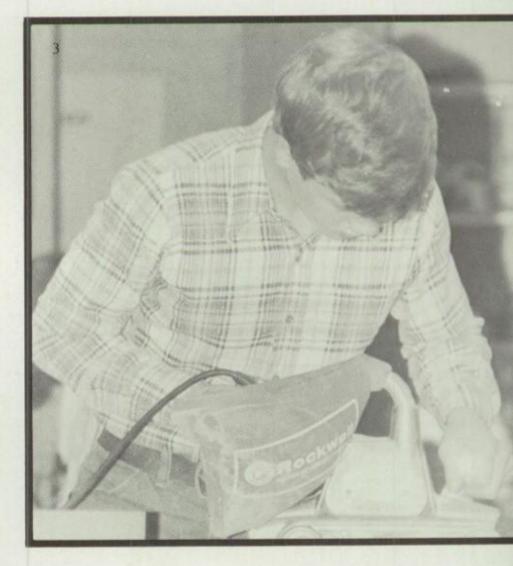

Sparks flew from welding torches while safety helmets protected the eyes and asbestos gloves helped prevent burns.

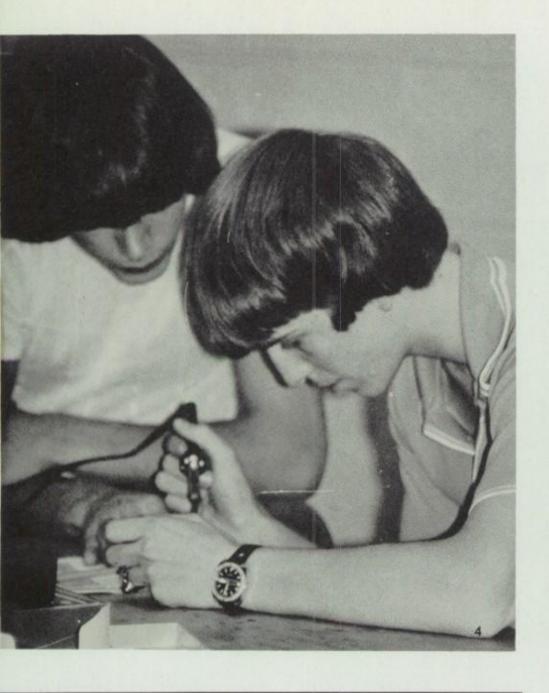

Oak, ash, mahogany, walnut, and pine were but a few of the many woods that were cut, sanded, and glued into handsome pieces of furniture, chess boards, and gun racks.

DCHS was fortunate to have a program where a house could be developed from blue prints into a three bedroom, Spanish-style, brick home with two full baths. From the foundation to the roofline, inside and out, this actractive house was constructed by 18 students.

Meticulous plans were developed in drafting and graphic arts and well designed T-shirts and signs were produced in abundance.

The 20th century called for in-depth studies into metals, power tools, and electricity — areas of great demand in a complicated technical age.

1. Students concentrate together in drafting class. 2. Assisting Kevin Girt in a project is Mr. Vitali. 3. Paul Kinzie learns how to sand his finished product to make it perfect. 4. A very meticulous job is done by Tony Kerker in electronics. 5. "The board must be securely clamped before sawing," explains Mr. Beach. 6. The Building Trades house looks beautiful now but David Mullin shows here that a lot of hard work was put forth. 7. Mr. Gray checks the work of the students in metals.

The music department of DCHS grew considerably this year not only in size but also in spirit. The band consisted of 100 members while the choir had 30 members participating.

This being the first year for the choir to have a period in which to rehearse, the results showed through with a stronger sounding choir. All of the performances received pleasing comments from the community.

Because of the size of the band, Mr. Armstrong decided to have two separate band periods for two bands, one being similar to a jazz band while the other being the concert band.

Right ventricle, left auricle, the aorta, and CPR. What do all these things have in common? If you don't know, then you surely haven't taken a health class at DCHS!

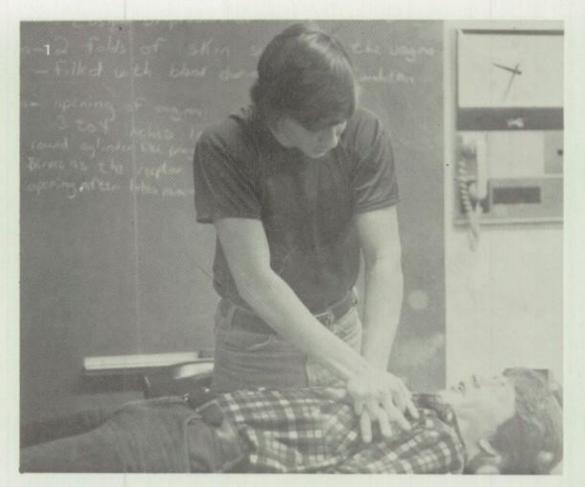

Taught this year by Miss Knight, Mrs. Hartshorn, and Mr. Brummett, the classes learned all sorts of information on the body; how it works, what makes it function, how to read your blood pressure, and various other health related items.

With CPR classes offered during the year, students had a better understanding of how important their lives can be.

Mrs. Carol Wolfe, Mr. Mike Lane, and Department Chairman Mrs. Edna Grimm taught the important skills of very practical subjects that play such a very important role in 20th century life.

The high school principal played an important role in school life at DCHS. He helped develope policies established by the school board. His job was not an easy one, but his work helped make it one of the best years yet at DCHS.

Our assistant principal tied up all loose ends around the school and helped make the day run smoothly. He worked mainly with the students, and tried to prevent problems before they arose. PERSONNEL HAS VARIED TASKS

The school nurse kept tabs on the pulse of DCHS to keep it healthy. She checked our temperatures, mended our wounds, and directed us to the proper sources of aid when we needed it. She kept accurate health records on each of us, acted as a resource person to enrich the offerings of health classes, and worked as a liaison between the school corporation and local health agencies. These were but a few of the duties of this multitalented lady.

The cafeteria staff prepared and served us with a daily lunch of the proper nutritional values. The staff also provided meals for after school functions. A glance at the ledgers showed that the ordering of meat by hundreds of pounds, and fruits and vegetables by the dozens of crates would boggle the minds of ordinary householders. Imagine — cookies by the tub!

The custodial and maintenance staffs kept the buildings and grounds in excellent order. Carpets, cupboards, and desks were cleaned and polished daily. Electrical lines and water pipes were constantly checked to keep in proper running order. The grounds were groomed and manicured fall, winter, summer and spring.

Bus drivers picked us up at our door and through wind, sun, rain, and snow they brought us to school each morning and were waiting to transport us back home each evening at 3:15. They also were our chauffeurs on field trips and fan buses.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE . . . REMEMBERING THE PAST

President RONALD DAVID BECHDOLT

Vice President CHRISTOPHER NEIL McGREW

Many of the year's graduating class became friends long ago. Many became friends just recently: but even so, they all had one thing in common: this was their last year at Delphi Community High School. The seniors of 1980 had a lot to look back on, but even more to look forward to. They could indulge in reminiscinces of gradeschool pranks and remember their first day as freshmen with a harping fear of getting lost in what seemed to be such a large school. These young adults mapped out their futures with great hopes of making their marks in the world. For one special day, one short period of time, they were honored as the GRADUATING CLASS OF 1980: walking down the aisle, to recieve diplomas, good luck and congratulatory wishes, and farewells from teary eyed classmates, friends and relatives, all gathered together on May 18, just one last time.

The words "Junior Class" were heard often during the year, and were usually connected with success. The first project juniors undertook was Magazine Sales. Their outstanding sales drive set a school record and made it obvious that the Class of '81 was going to shine. Home-

Treas. M. Stewart, Sec. C. Hinkle, Pres, S. Duff, Vice-pres. Bob Floyd. coming proved another success for juniors. Hard work and determination helped win the Spirit contest. With the aid of Mrs. Laura Baker and Mr. Stuart Mathis, the class showed they were mighty, not only in size, but in spirit. Sd

The dictionary defines sophomore as "both wise and clever and foolish and silly." Was that apt for the class of 1982? They were wiser than freshman, but also gifted with a strange sense of humor.

They had fun, but worked hard on their homecoming project. The sophomores' float placed second and in overall competition, placed third.

Anxious to get their class rings, the sophomores ordered them at the end of their freshman year, but because of a strike at the company, they did not come when expected.

The sophomore year was the start of becoming more active in high school and the end of freshman worries.

The 1979-80 freshman class had a big store of new experiences and drastic changes during the school year. They received a new title (Freshmen) and became members of an elite group known as "Delphi Community High School Student Body" with the privilige of attending a new modern school. Under the guidance of advisors Mrs. Bedeva Bowling and Mr. Joseph Seurynck, they undertook their first money-making projects which started them on their way be become financial geniuses.

DECEMBER 8-9, 1979 A VENTURE IN DRAMATIC INTERPRETATION COMBINED WITH VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

"Come see the Carnival! Get your balloons! Candy!" These were the familiar cries as the DCHS Little Theatre hosted Bob Merrill's "Carnival".

The audience watched as orphaned Lili came to the carnival for a job, and grew from a little girl to a young lady through romance with "Marco the Magnificent", and a lesson from the crippled puppeteer, Paul.

Also in love with Marco, the imcomparable Rosalie tried to make him jealous by her flirtations with Dr. Von Glass.

The play concluded as Lili realized she was in love with Paul, which left Marco and Rosalie free to be married.

The audience enjoyed an evening of carefree music, good acting, and a chance to re-live the cheery atmosphere of a Carnival once again.

THE CARNIVAL COMES TO TOWN!

1. Paul Berthalet (Joe Justice) and Lili (Miranda Mears). 2. PUPPETS: Horrible Henry, Renardo, Marguerite, and Carrot Top. 3. "I'm a very nice man, with a very nice face!" explains Grobert (Ron French) to Lili. 4. ROW 3: John Chapman, Cindy Hinkle, Susan Al-Abas, Debbie Cunningham. 6. "With a Sword and a Rose and a Cape!" sings Marco (David Bechdolt) to Lili as the roustabouts Mike Floyd, Keene Red Elk, Phil Johns, Gil Smith, and Dennis Hawn, look on. 7. Rosalie (Lori Sprague) exclaims "I'll be humming!" to B.F. Schlegel (Tim Phillips). 8. CHORUS. ROW 1: Cindy Hinkle, Diane Brennaman, Caron Appleton, Robin Harshbarger, Tim Phillips. ROW 2: Suzanne Clifford, Elisa Johns, Kelly Sand, Connie Yoder, Jennifer Dittman, Becky Floyd. ROW 3: Tina Greer, Marcella Van Sickle, Marta Rose, Debbie Cunningham, Tammy Miller, Ron French. 9. Puppeteers Paul and Jacquot (Jeff Sieber) discuss the up-coming show. 10. Dr. Glass (Eric Nelson) finally makes his proposal to Rosalie, much to the dismay of Marco.

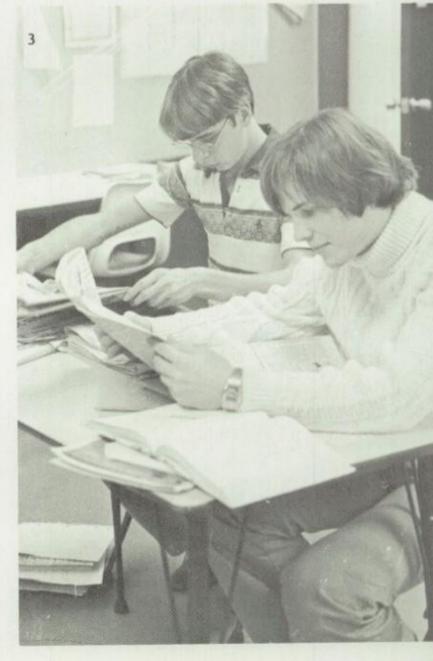

EXTRA! READ ALL ABOUT IT!

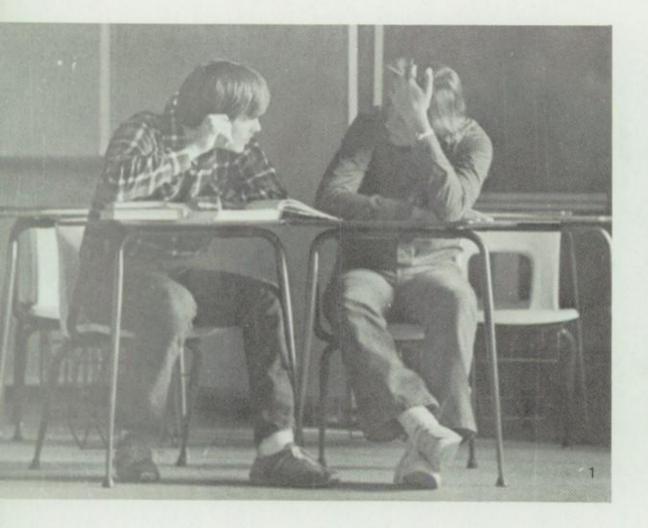

A group of students, headed by advisor Mrs. Earleen Alverez, worked studiously throughout the year to keep students informed of events which concerned the school. Through much hard work they published a monthly school paper. If the student body didn't know about an event it wasn't the fault of the staff.

COMING AND GOING

From Marcos Juarez, Argentina, Pedro Gustavo Dellarosa came to Delphi as a Rotary Exchange student to live and attend school for one year. After his arrival in January of 1979, he lived with the Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ashley. Pedro later stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hinkle and their family, Tom, Cindy, Martha, and Steve. During the summer of '79, he worked at Camp Tecumseh living with Dick and Jean Marsh. Chris and Matt McGrew served as Pedro's brothers in the fall while he stayed at their home.

While in Indiana, Pedro's English improved considerably as he spoke to many groups in the community and tried to explain some customs of Argentina that Americans were not used to. All in all, Pedro's stay in Delphi will be memorable for many.

In January of 1980, Miranda Mears left for Tairua Heights, New Zealand, to embark upon a new style of life for a year. She attended school, although in a quite different manner (that of wearing uniforms). In just a few short weeks, Miranda became accustomed to other English traits, such as afternoon tea. With the seasons opposite that of the United States, she enjoyed summer while we trudged through winter. It was a totally different enviornment to get used to but "if one is going to stay there a year, one must learn the traits of the native." Miranda learned them and put them into use until her return home in January of 1981.

Some students took time off from their normal activities to participate in Exploratory Teaching and to venture into the strange world of elementary teaching. It sounds easy, doesn't it? Well, it was a lot of hard work, not all fun and games. Helping the elementary teachers with both the students and the work was mainly what the students did that took the class. There were meetings with Mr. David Beale to discuss the problems and rewards that had been received through the gradual perception of understanding the behavior of children.

SHOW TUNES

Who was always at the basketball games showing their real spirit? The Pep Band, that's who. At almost every game, during the halftimes and between games, one could hear the music of those 35 enthusiastic band members helping to pep-up the crowd. Playing with little recognition, the rewards of being a member of the DCHS Pep Band were still great. Many thought it a way of representing their school spirit to the visiting teams while also giving the Oracles a real boost.

An after-school stage band was formed this year by interested students. With the direction of Mr. Royce Armstrong, jazz, pop, and Dixie songs were learned by players and performed occasionally. Understanding the concepts of different types of music and hearing the unusual styles was not only important to the stage band, but fun, too! Ijc

FLAGS FLY - POM PONS DANCE

Halftime? That's the time during the game when everyone hurried out to get popcorn, right? Wrong! At least not at DCHS. Halftime was when an excited crowd saw a first-class performance by the Flag and Rifle Corps. There were 21 girls and each one worked hard to contribute her share to the program. Besides spending many hours perfecting their skills under the guidance of Mrs. Teran Armstrong, the girls found time to hold a profitable bake sale. When basketball season arrived, a transformation had taken place in the girls. They had changed their boots, put on a skirt, taken off the hat, and exchanged the flag for a pair of pom pons. Thus the Flag Girls had become the Pom Pon Girls.

The International Year of the Child was a very appropriate theme for the Home Economics for Youth club. Throughout the year the girls devoted a lot of time and energy to the cause. They held a bake-sale and sold pocketsize calendars to raise the funds needed to have a successful year.

The girls held a special Christmas party to which everyone brought a child guest. In addition to the party, they planned to visit an orphanage as another way of expressing their concern for children.

OFFICERS TO KANSAS CITY

With the arrival of new advisor, Bruce Cunningham, came an increase in the activities of the Future Farmers of America. Many of their meetings were held at night and all members followed parliamentary procedure. To orientate the new officers to the program, the club sent them to Kansas City, Missouri for a national officers convention. Here the six young men and Mr. Cunningham learned of other chapters in the country and of ways to improve their on club.

In the fall of the year the club held the annual Green-Hand initiation at which the new members formally joined the organization. They also chose a girl to represent them as their "Chapter Sweetheart" for the year.

Several of the boys participated in contests in which they judged various things such as soil, livestock, and crops. To help finance their trips and activities, The Andersons donated seeds and a plot of land to the club so they could produce their own crops of corn and soybeans. With these young men in charge, the prospects for our agricultural future looks bright.

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE

A funfilled, exciting weekend trip to Chicago was spent seeing plays, visiting museums, and shopping. Some members preferred to think of it as a smaller version of the New York trip taken in previous years during spring break. Initiations were held after both the fall musical and the spring play for incoming members who had received ten or more points in the theater department. This year's club took on a new look by revising the constitution and choosing a motto and a symbol to represent theater itself. Sponsored by Mr. Morris Buck, Theta officers for 1979-80 were Lori Campbell, president; Cindy Hinkle, vice-president; Tim Phillips, secretary.

Youth ARC, the Youth Association for Retarded Citizens, was an 'on the move club' during the year. Club members held a swimming party and took members roller skating. They helped the CBer's with their annual Christmas party, also. Other activities included a Halloween party at Honan Hall, and the showing of an animated film. It was a worth while experience for everyone concerned. Members looked forward to club functions, and are expecting a good year again next year.

ENTERTAINERS TOUR DISTRICT

The twenty members of the high school swing choir, THE ENTERTAINERS, made a district tour during the year. They provided entertainment in places such as the Camden, Hillcrest, and Pittsburg elementary schools, and the Middle School. The group also showed off their talents right here in our very own high school several different times! They performed at the high school Open House, the Christmas and Spring Convocations. There were grins from ear to ear when the group was judged Superior at a contest in Valparaiso this winter. Combining their singing talents with their dancing abilities took a special skill, much time, and a huge amount of effort which sometimes meant hours of grueling, time consuming practice that often left group members worn to a frazzle. But all that hard work paid off in the end. THE ENTERTAINERS were requested to sing at many engagements such as The Anderson's Christmas party, the Reunion of the Class of 1934, and a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Jennifer Kelly provided accompaniment for the singers, along with John Chapman on drums, Troy Seele on guitar, and Dennis Hall on bass guitar. Kevin Kayser directed the group.

The light and airy sounds of the Madrigals, a group remeniscent of fifteenth century England, were a highlight of the music department this year. Members sang songs without any type of accompaniment. They relied only upon their ability to listen to other sections of the group, for a blend of harmony and melody. Members took part in a music contest at South Newton and placed second in Division One. One night a week they practiced, and usually went over the same song again and again, until they had mastered it. Practice makes perfect so goes the saying, and nobody knows better than a Madrigal. Maybe they didn't sing the year's top tune, but they did sing select compositions that required special talents. Mr. Kevin Kayser directed the group.

SPIRIT SHINES!

Upon returning home from camp at Indiana University, the Varsity Cheerleaders of DCHS set to work practicing diligently to prepare for the upcoming season. Their outstanding spirit proved that their hard work had certainly paid off. Besides cheering at games and pep rallies, they sold wastebaskets, made signs to boost school spirit, and baked cookies for the team. Mrs. Carol Hartshorn, squad sponsor, was largely responsible for the increase in school spirit, especially during Homecoming Week. Becky Kempf, eight-year cheerleading veteran, summed up their success by saying, "This year was a lot better because we had a sponsor and we were a lot more organized."

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders displayed a great amount of spirit at the varsity games as well as their own. They were also responsible for selling wastebaskets, making signs, and providing the team with cookies after the games. The four girls contributed a lot to the cheerleading program and showed great potential for the future.

New to high shoool cheerleading, the Freshmen Cheerleaders learned and progressed under the guidance of Ms. Linda Lewellen. The foursome practiced hard and showed much spirit while cheering their team to a winning season.

ENDURANCE 'PLAYS' OFF

Through wind, rain, snow, sleet, and shine ... That's not a postman, it's the DCHS band. The one-hundred members of the band proved to be dedicated and full of endurance. The marching band played during hot, summer days and cold, fall evenings and the concert band came from all parts of the county during the snowy season to give a Christmas concert. Endurance was shown throughout the year. (That is; endurance of cold mouth pieces and chipped reeds!)

Teran Armstrong served as an assistant director for her first year at the Delphi Community Schools. She mainly taught the Middle School bands and helped Director Royce Armstrong with the high school bands and the flag and rifle corps girls.

HELPING HANDS

Hi-Y was a very strong and successful club that was dedicated to helping the less fortunate. It maintained a high reputation at Delphi Community High School. Members followed club tradition by selling apple cider throughout the area to raise money for Christmas baskets that they gave to the needy, and many other club projects. Ushering for the fall musical was also a service they provided. Leading this group (closely affiliated with the Young Men's Christian Associations of North America) was Advisor Mr. Robert Tyner. TLB

FUTURE LEADERS

Campaigns, elections, caucuses, holding office ... sounds like politics, doesn't it? That is exactly what it was - American governmental processes in action! Boys and Girls Staters were chosen by the American Legion Posts of Camden and Delphi to go to the campus of Indiana State University during the summer. Those who attended the conference came from all over the state. A governor and other high party officials were chosen by a two party system just as federal and state electorial campaigns. The experience prepared those students for more concrete understanding and political awareness of American government.

Each month of the school year, two young men were chosen to attend a luncheon and hear speakers from varied fields of commerce, industry, and government speak on pertinent topics of the day. The events were sponsored by Delphi Rotary Club. Young men who were selected to attend were chosen for their scholastic and leadership capabilities. To be chosen as JUNIOR ROTAR-

ION was a distinct honor.

DCHS PEP BLOCK

The Pep Block of the 79-80 basketball season was one of the biggest ever at DCHS. Spirit and enthusiasm displayed by the Pep Block were evident to visiting spectators and home fans alike.

Both boys and girls raised their voices to cheer their team on, usually to a victory. Cheering contests were sometimes held between groups within the club. These small contests provided much fun, helped them improved their abilities, and added to the spirit of the occasion.

The Pep Block, led by the cheerleaders, used new cheers as well as old reliable ones to back their team throughout the season, thus successfully living up to the name of DCHS Pep Block!

"Beautiful Music" — The phrase doesn't do justice to all the work that was the result of the long hours practiced by Mr. Kevin Kayser and the vocal groups to prepare themselves to perform for contests and concerts.

Three of the able vocal groups at DCHS were A Cappella Choir, Concert Choir and Girls Ensemble.

The A Cappella Choir sang at a wide variety of music events. Admittance to the group was by audition only. The Concert Choir not only sang at special appearances, but had a concentrated study on the background of the music. The Girls Ensemble (quite obviously all females) participated in the District Solo Ensemble Contest. Enjoyment of music through participation became a treat for audience and singers alike.

The Women's Varsity "D" club was very supportive to many of the school's athletic events. The growing group of thirty-six members was able to raise money for "D" blankets through candy sales, cake raffles, collection of admissions at ball games, and other money making projects. Officers were President Terrie Berto, Vice-president Becky Kempf, Secretary-Treasurer Amy Boerger. Miss Sally Knight sponsored this strong and prestigious women's organization.

The OEA (Office Education Association) was designed to help bring the business world to the school, and help students take part in every day business life.

The Delphi chapter had a busy year, starting it off with a pizza party welcoming new members into the club. The club then sponsored the traditional Homecoming Dance featuring the H.O. Brown Band.

Christmas was a special time for advisor, Mrs. Grimm, as the members held a party, and Mrs. Grimm was the guest of honor.

As OEA week came about in the Spring, each girl sold suckers, and the money was then given to the Special Olympics for Retarded Children.

During National Secretary Week, the girls had a chance to brighten the lives of many a secretary, as each one chose a favorite secretary, and rewarded her with special gifts during the week.

Contests were another spring time activity that the girls had to prepare for. The contests are set up every year to allow each girl to participate in the field in which she does her best.

All in all, the club had an extremely prosperous year.

The road is bumpy, the distance long. The practices tough and lengthy.

A harrier must have stamina and determination to endure pain of pulled muscles and sore feet from running countless miles everyday.

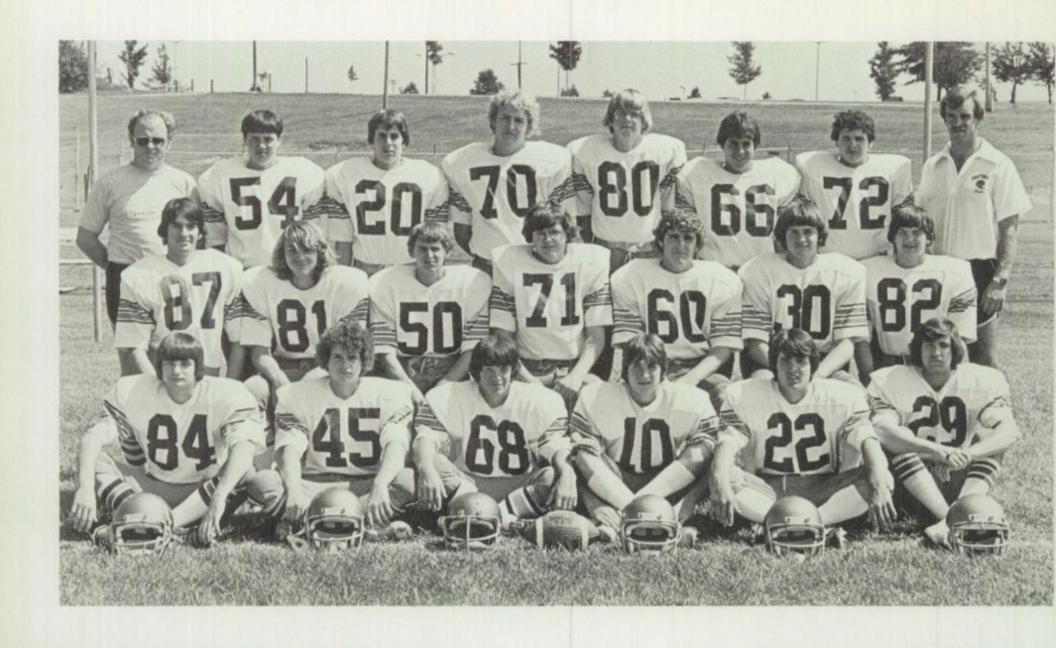

Coach Jim Crist's harriers didn't go through pain for nothing. The team has trophies to prove it. They enjoyed their best season yet, with a record of 12-3. They also had the title of Hoosier Conference Champs and second place

JV FOOTBALL.

"Enthusiastic" is the way Coach Phil Brummet described the Junior Varsity Football team. After 2½ hours of calisthentics, the hitting sleds, and scrimmaging with the varsity team, they still seemed eager for their games.

Good defense was really their strong point during the season. Above all, the players had learned that aggressiveness played a major role in winning or losing a game.

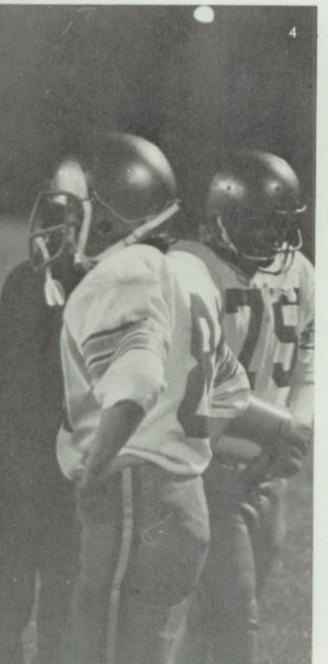

FROSH FOOTBALL.

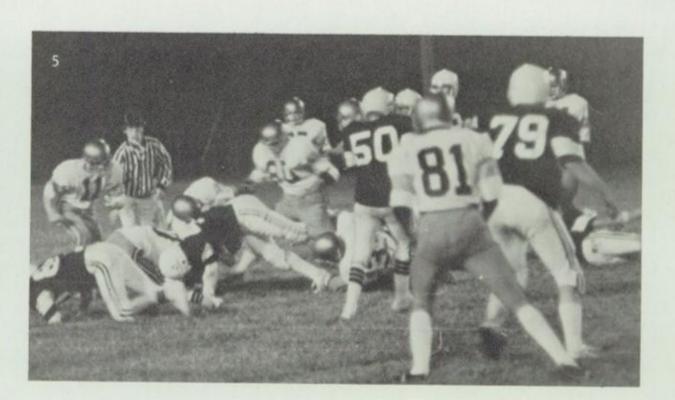

Hard Work ..., Injuries ..., Bad Weather ..., that was how the freshman football players started out the season. They found the plays more advanced from their previous year.

Even though they lost the first few games, they showed a terrific amount of improvement near the end of the season.

Coach Phil Cottrell and Assistant Coach Norman Miller, were really proud of the kids.

The 1979 squad was a young, small, and inexperienced team with only three players having seen much varsity action last fall. Crippled with a rash of injuries throughout the season, major adjustments had to be made week by week. With only six Seniors on the team, the Oracles gained valuable experience playing one of the toughest schedules ever. One of the highlights of the season was a fine victory over county rival-Carroll.

The atmosphere is tense as the referee blows his whistle for silence. The swimmers shiver nervously as they mount the blocks. The ref's voice rings through the air and echoes in their ears. Several pairs of eyes wander up and down the pool before fixing blankly on a spot below them. For a brief moment the swimmers pause in a moment of concentration.

Again the voice of the referee calls, bringing everyone back to reality.

"Swimmers take your mark ..."

They hold their start, frozen. What seems like an eternity passes until the sound of a gun breaks the silence, sending swimmers into the water in a mass of bubbles.

The scene was a familiar one to members of the girls swim team. Although the team was small in size, spirit ranked high among the girls, seeming to compensate for lack of members.

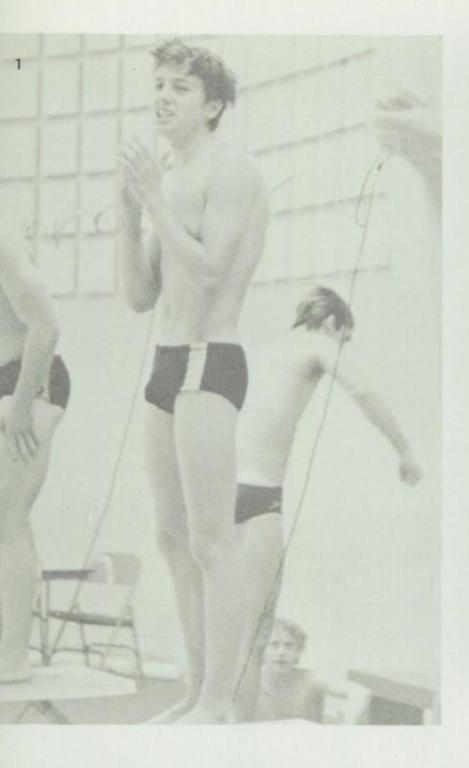

During the season the Dolphins showed grace and agility, matched only by their optimism and steady improvements in times. Through defeats and morning and evening practices, the drive of the Dolphins could not be broken.

Perhaps the season was best summed up in a quote by coach Robert Gordon, "All out repeats cure those defeats."

DOLPHINS BUBBLE THRU

Have you wondered what it'd be like to live in water? Ask a dolphin — a Delphi Dolphin, that is. He'd tell you what it's like to practically live and breathe water.

True to their name, members of the Boys' Swim Team spent a large part of their time in the water practicing "flips" and the "'fly". Under the direction of coaches Abel Alvarez and Robert Gordon, the Dolphins watched as their team grew from a relatively small to large-sized team.

Although swimming is more an individual sport, the team's "tremendous attitude" and joint efforts helped to earn them victories over such teams as South Newton, Benton Central, and county rival, Carroll High, as well as a place in the Hoosier Conference, to top the season off.

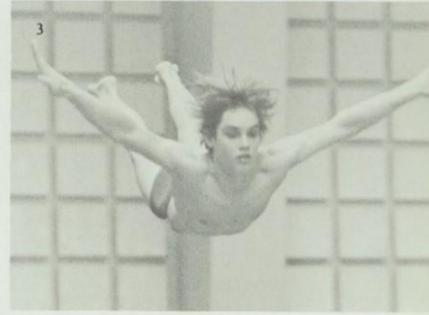

As the Dolphins season splashed to a close, one could not help but look back on the Dolphin's season without wondering what would emerge from the depths of the DCHS pool next year. Jaws III?

BOYS' TENNIS TEAM SERVES TO VICTORY

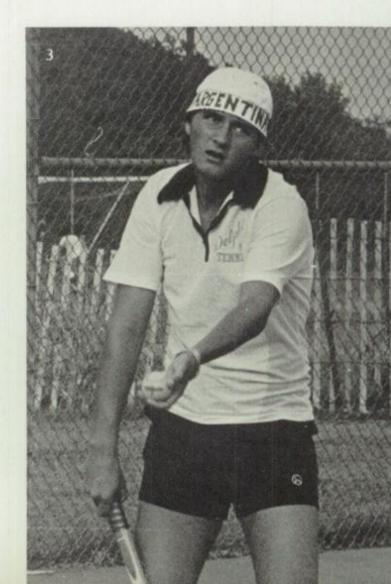

Tennis anyone? The question may have been one you've heard before, but chances are you heard it from a member of the boys tennis team. The year proved to be an exciting one for the squad who finished their season with an overall winloss record of 6-7. Their aces included wins over such schools as Western, Maconaquah, Benton Central, Twin Lakes, Central Catholic and Carroll.

The netters slammed into the season with a number one doubles team who went undefeated for the first part of the season. Individual efforts by Kevin Connor and Bernie Wallmann led the group to the semi-finals of the Hoosier Conference — proving that tennis is their racket!

The tennis season is over for the boys. The rackets and balls have been put away, but soon again tennis balls will be whizzing across nets and once again that familiar question will be heard — "anyone for a game of tennis?"

PAIN IS GAIN

Pain — the backbone of success. To some it's a strength, to others it's a weakness, but to most athletes it's an obstacle that must be overcome.

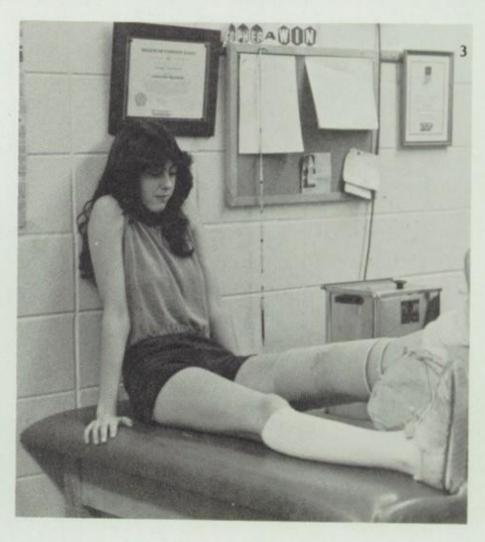

The Trainer-Weight room was the place where muscles and attitudes were built and obstacles destroyed. It was the first step toward disciplining the mind and the body. In the beginning there was pain and sweat; the muscles pulled and the tendons stretched, but the determination to get stronger outweighed the hurt.

The weight room was the place where athletes went for strength, but what about their weaknesses? The answer, of course, was to trainer Lindsey Hartshorn, or, as his patients refer to him, "Doc Hartshorn". For every strength there was a weakness, and for every weakness there was Lindsey. True to his name, "Doc" has treated a variety of injuries from "swimmer's ear" to "water on the knee". With a pocket full of cures and a friendly disposition, "Doc Hartshorn" was the best medicine for any athlete.

DCHS SCORE BLOCKS

ORACLES TAKE TOURNEY CROWN

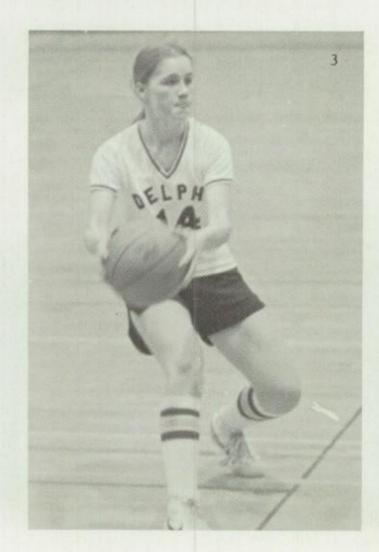

Depite playing the toughest schedule in its history, the girls varsity basketball team succeeded in making 79-80 their most successful season yet. The netters completed the regular season with an outstanding 11-4 record. The highlight of the season came at the Carroll tourney when the Oracles brought the championship trophy home after eliminating two tough opponents. The aggressive Oracle women had to play their very best to narrowly defeat Western, 38-37, in the opening game, but had no problem handling the Cougars, 59-40, to win the title. Senior Terrie Berto and junior Sally Brooks were co-captains of the squad which was composed of three seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores. The girls, under the fine coaching of Miss Karen Hanni, proved that basketball was definitely not for boys only.

Sd

SEASON OF SUCCESS

With second-year Coach Sally Knight in control, the girls J.V.
and Freshman basketball teams had seasons which spelled success. The junior varsity completed their schedule with 7 wins against 6 losses.
The team, which consisted of all sophomores and juniors, practiced hard to improve themselves
throughout the season.

The six girls that made up the Freshman squad proved to be promising also. Three of their few losses were by only one point.

Even though the Oracles appeared on the short side of the score a few times, they showed promising potential for future years.

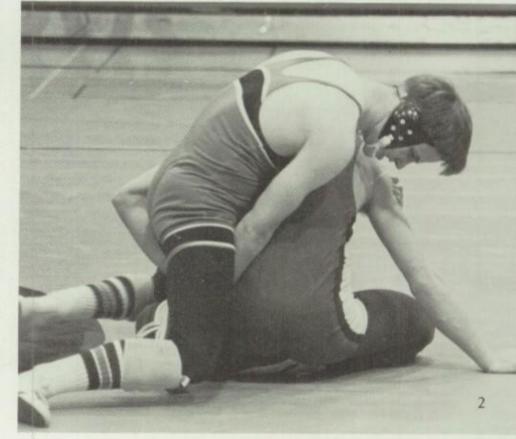

Sd

1. GIRLS VARSITY BASKETBALL. Sally Brooks, Lisa Jennings, Debbie Lichtenberger, Katrina Pearson, Nancy Brooks, Karla Pearson, Teresa Elston, Terrie Berto, Kneeling: Coach Karen Hanni. 2. Senior guard Terrie Berto demonstrates her shooting skills to secure another Oracle victory. 3. Concentration is an important part of ball-handling as Sally Brooks finds out. 4. The sky is the limit for Katrina Pearson as she gains control of the tip-off. 5. J.V. BASKETBALL. ROW 1: Rita Leinberger, Nancy Ives, Coach Sally Knight, Vicki Nape, Jennifer Venters. ROW 2: Pam Powlen, Lisa Jennings, Debbie Lichtenberger, Sue Seramur, Tricia Starbuck, 6. FROSH BASKETBALL. ROW 1: Kelly Daniels, Tammy Metzinger, Brenda Smith, Mary Kay Stewart, Tena Griffith, Lora Rinehart.

WRESTLERS DO IT ON A MAT

"Wrestlers do it on a mat'." ... an expression which is very descriptive of this particular sport ... and the DCHS wrestlers "did it" quite well ine 79-80 season.

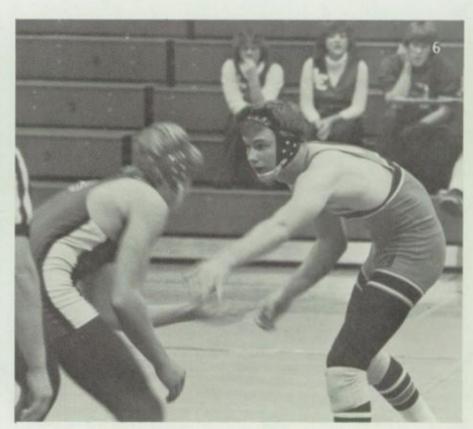

With a number of freshman and sophomores on the team, DCHS can look forward to some continuing productive wrestling seasons.

Head Coach Phil Cottrell, and Assistant Coach Bill Gray were a great asset to the team not only in knowledge, but in spirit.

1. Wrestlers often encounter entangling situations. 2. McGrew bears down. 3. ROW 1: B. Floyd, E. Fassnacht, S. Orr, J. Kennedy, R. Strasser, A. George, Coach P. Cottrell. ROW 2: R. Haan, J. Randall, W. Stone, C. McGrew, T. Garrison, B. Burdine, E. Fleck, B. Smothers. 4. ROW 1: K. Floyd, P. Smith, M. Keen, J. Miller, S. Fleck. ROW 2. D. Mote, R. Keen, P.T. Jeffries, Coach B. Gray, M. Nichols, J. Delaney. Not pictured: J. Robertson. 5. Entranced spectators watch a rough match. 6. "Hold still so I can pin you," McGrew seems to be thinking.

PRACTICE. They did a lot of that on the Boys J.V. and Freshman basketball teams. They may not have been as well known as the Varsity, but they did work just as hard and just as long. And with every win came the knowledge that all that practce didn't go for naught.

FROSH SHOW POISE AND DRIVE

1. David Crume uses his shooting skills to score two points for the Oracles. 2. Brad Bieghler and Don Hildebrandt discover that Pre-game warmups are essential. 3. FRESHMAN BASKETBALL. ROW 1: R. Gagnon, T. Yates, D. Crume, D. Hildebrandt, B. Elmore, D. Crume, ROW 2: E. Brumbaugh, J. Huddleston, J. Wagner, T. Fisher, M. Logsdon. ROW 3: Coach Vitali, D. Abbott, P. Johns, B. Bieghler, G. Stonebraker, R. Mays, J. Bieghler, Coach Tyner.

Basketball — the sport of Hoosiers. Ask any Hoosier and he'll tell you that Indiana is the home of basketball. Delphi Community High School is no exception; ask any Oracle, he'll tell you. "This is Oracle country".

"Hoosier Hysteria" could be felt everywhere — from the mouths of dedicated fans cheering for their team, to the sound of a basketball being dribbled down the court and swishing into the basket for two more points.

This year's Boys Varsity Basketball Team was the cause for the excitement generated on and off the court. Drive and dedication were key factors in the Oracles' victories, but perhaps the greatest success they sustained was their performance together as a team. In his own way, each member contributed to the team, whether it was in points, rebounds, quickness, or spirit. The electricity and power created by the team, game after game, through victories and defeats, repaid each fan for their support time and again, and gave new meaning to the word "teamwork".

You needn't have been in the stands to feel the hysteria. You didn't even have to go to one of the games. All you had to was ask an Oracle. He'd tell you in a moment. Oracles are dynamite!

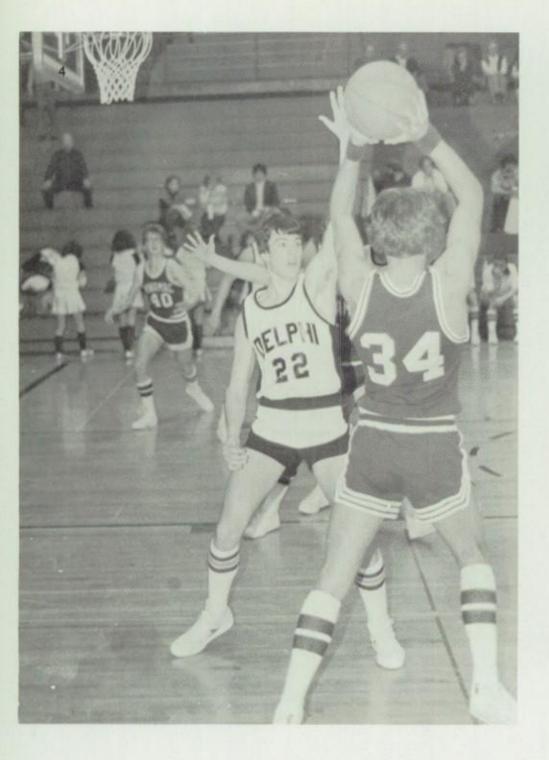

KcN

HOOSIER HYSTERIA

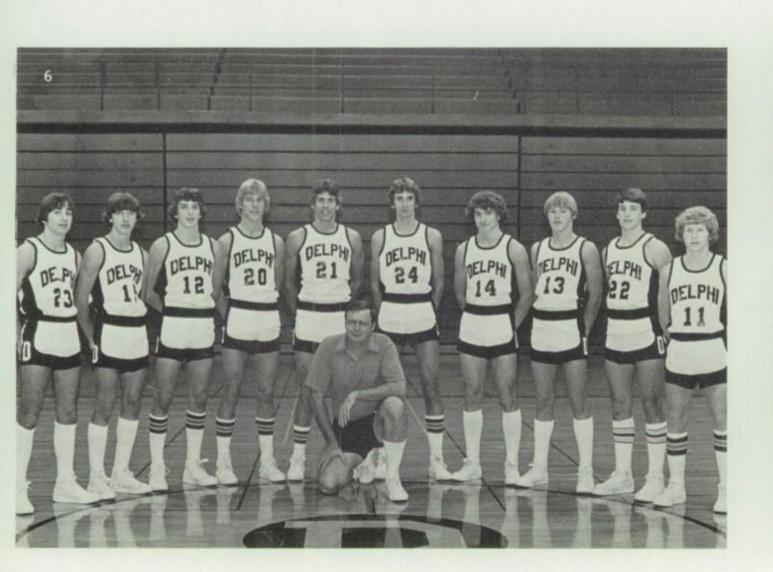

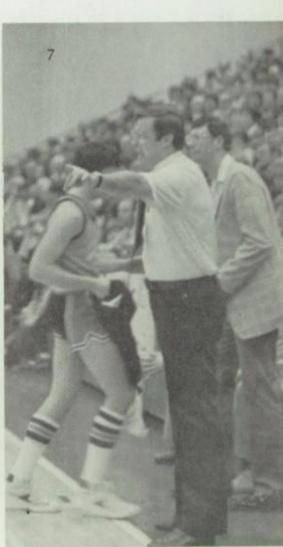

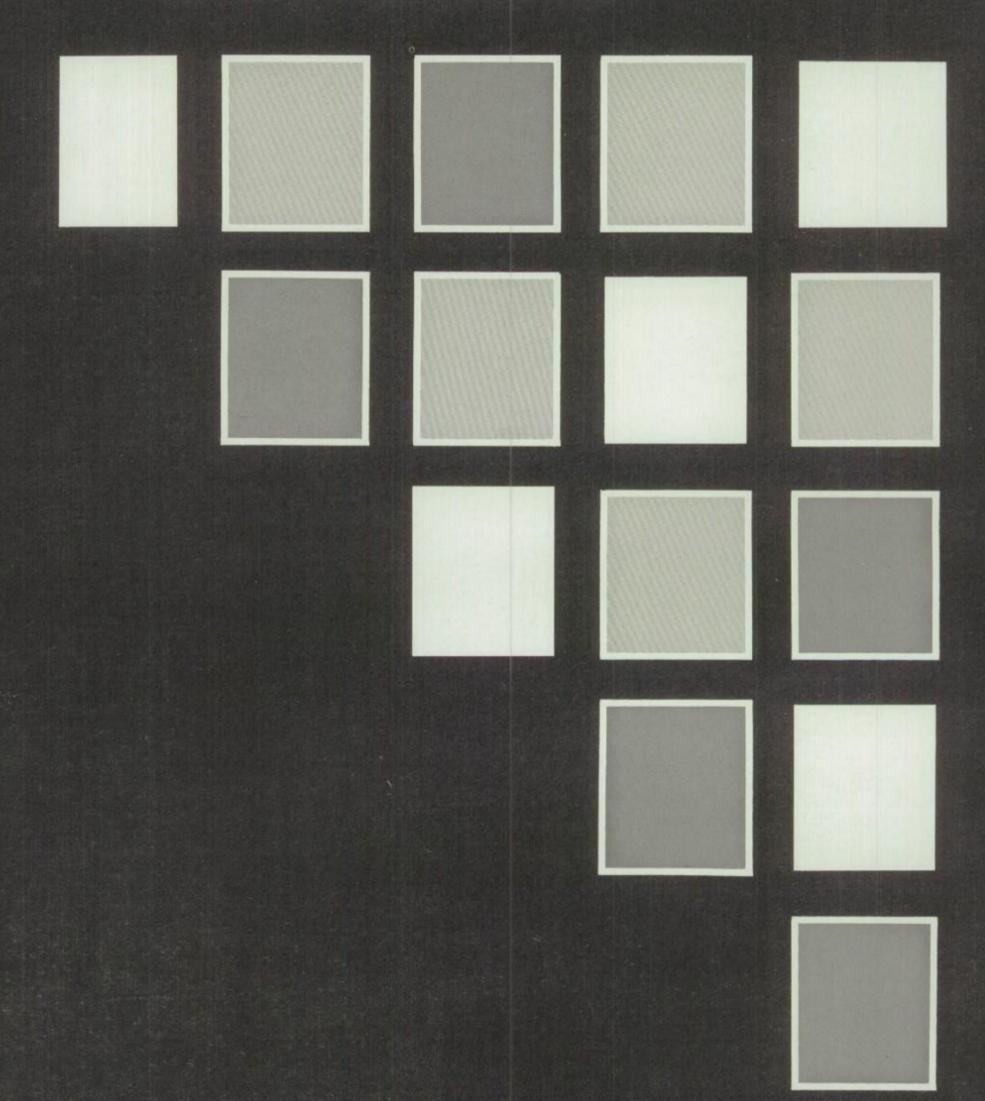

1. Dean Donaldson contemplates a free throw as opponents anticipate the ball. 2. Mark Jargstorf stretches for an easy two points. 3. "Hustle makes it happen, teamwork is where it's at". 4. "Drop that ball!" seems to be the thoughts of Bernie Wallmann. 5. Brian Forgarasi goes one on one against a Cougar. 6. Varsity Basketball Team: Tim Canen, Brian Fogarasi, Steve Hoffman, Dean Donaldson, Mark Jargstorf, Coach Jim Lichtenberger, Dave Mullin, Tim Justice, Phil Schrader, Bernie Wallman, Max Victor. 7. Coach Lichtenberger "directs" his Oracles from the side lines.

A NOTE OF THANKS ...

and today becomes tomorrow ... the dark becomes the light ... the minute becomes the hour ... a new face becomes an old friend ... CHANGES ...

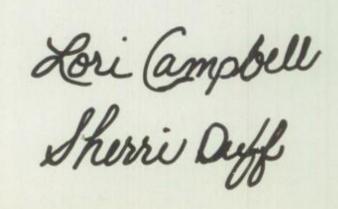

We present this book to you as a rememberence of the changes that have taken place in our lives throughout this year.

It would not have been possible to present this book without the patronage and financial support of our advertisers. We also want to thank the DCHS students and faculty for cooperating with us in their own various ways to produce this book.

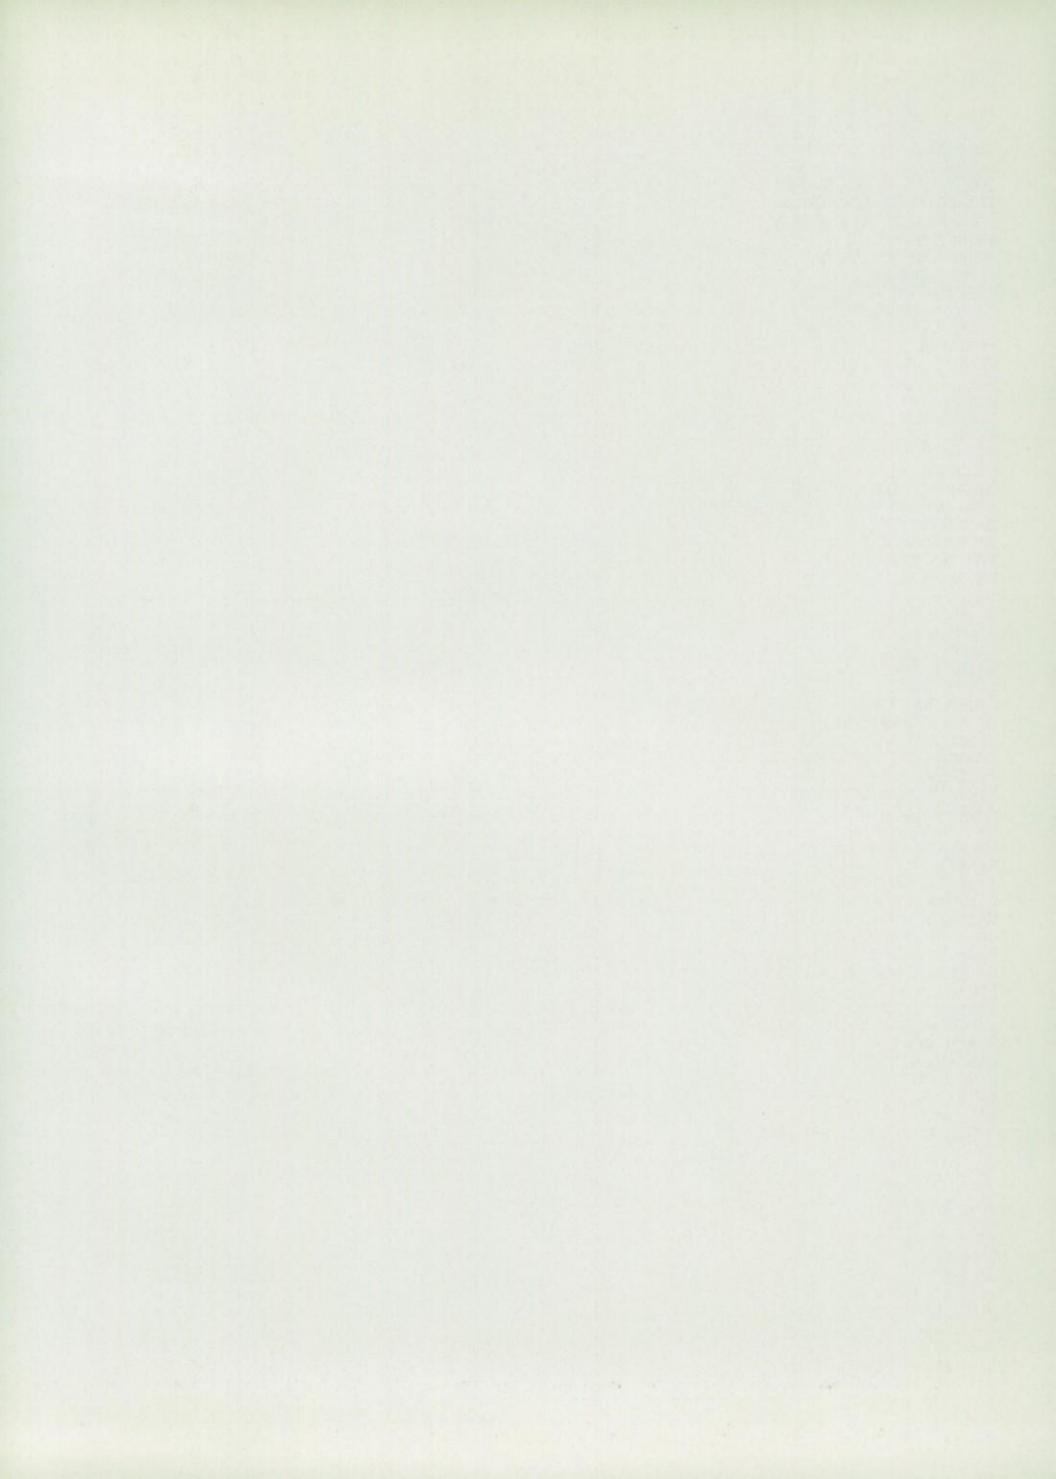

We thank our fellow staffers for their help and support in putting this book together. (Also, for putting up with the tempers and frustrations that go along with the job we have.)

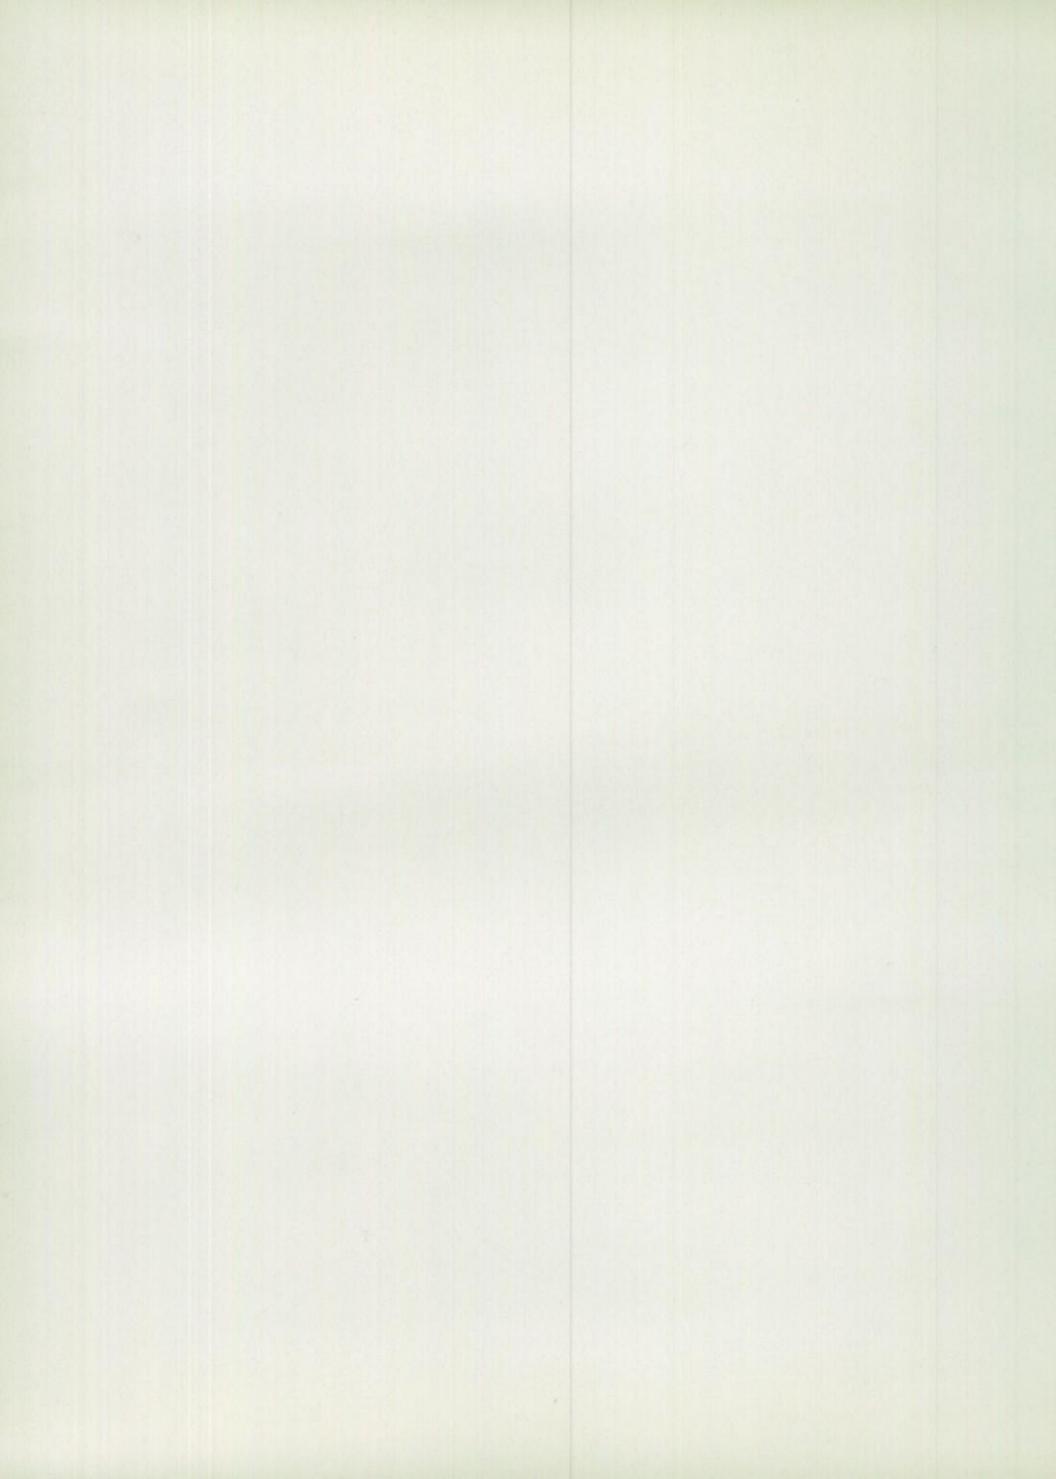

A simple "thank-you" is not enough for our advisor, Mr. Jack Sanders who has guided us through this year. He unselfishly devoted his time to the Staff to meet the un-met deadlines, to finish the unfinished layouts, and to co-ordinate the entire advertising section. "THANX" Mr. S. We love ya!

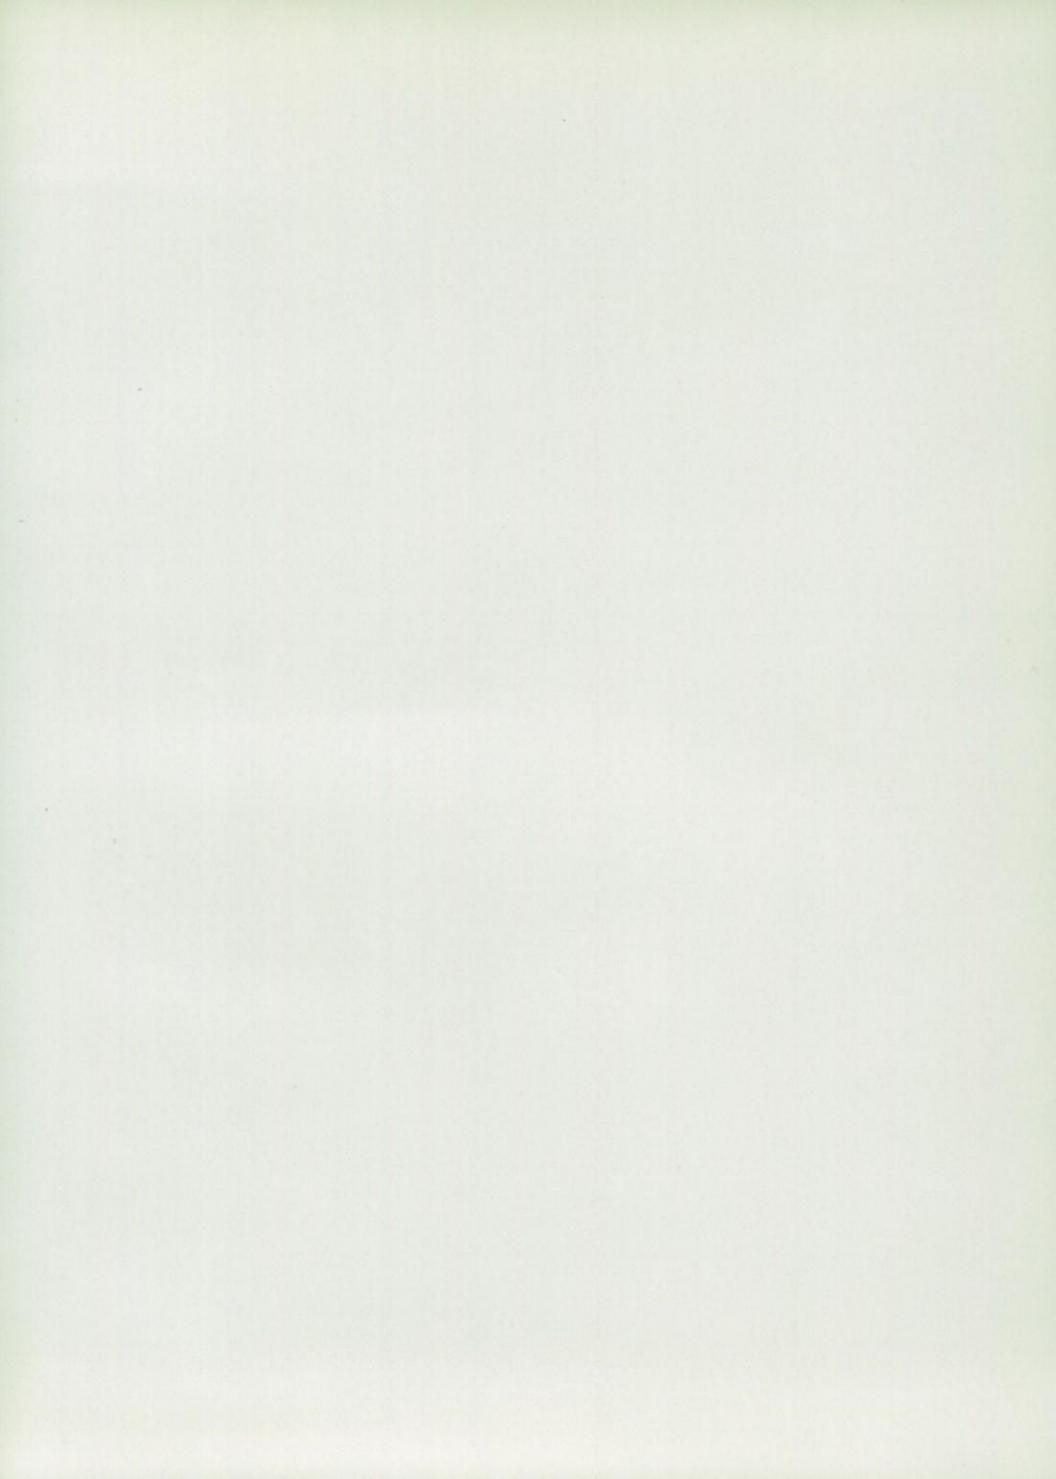

THE 1980 ORACLE Editors,

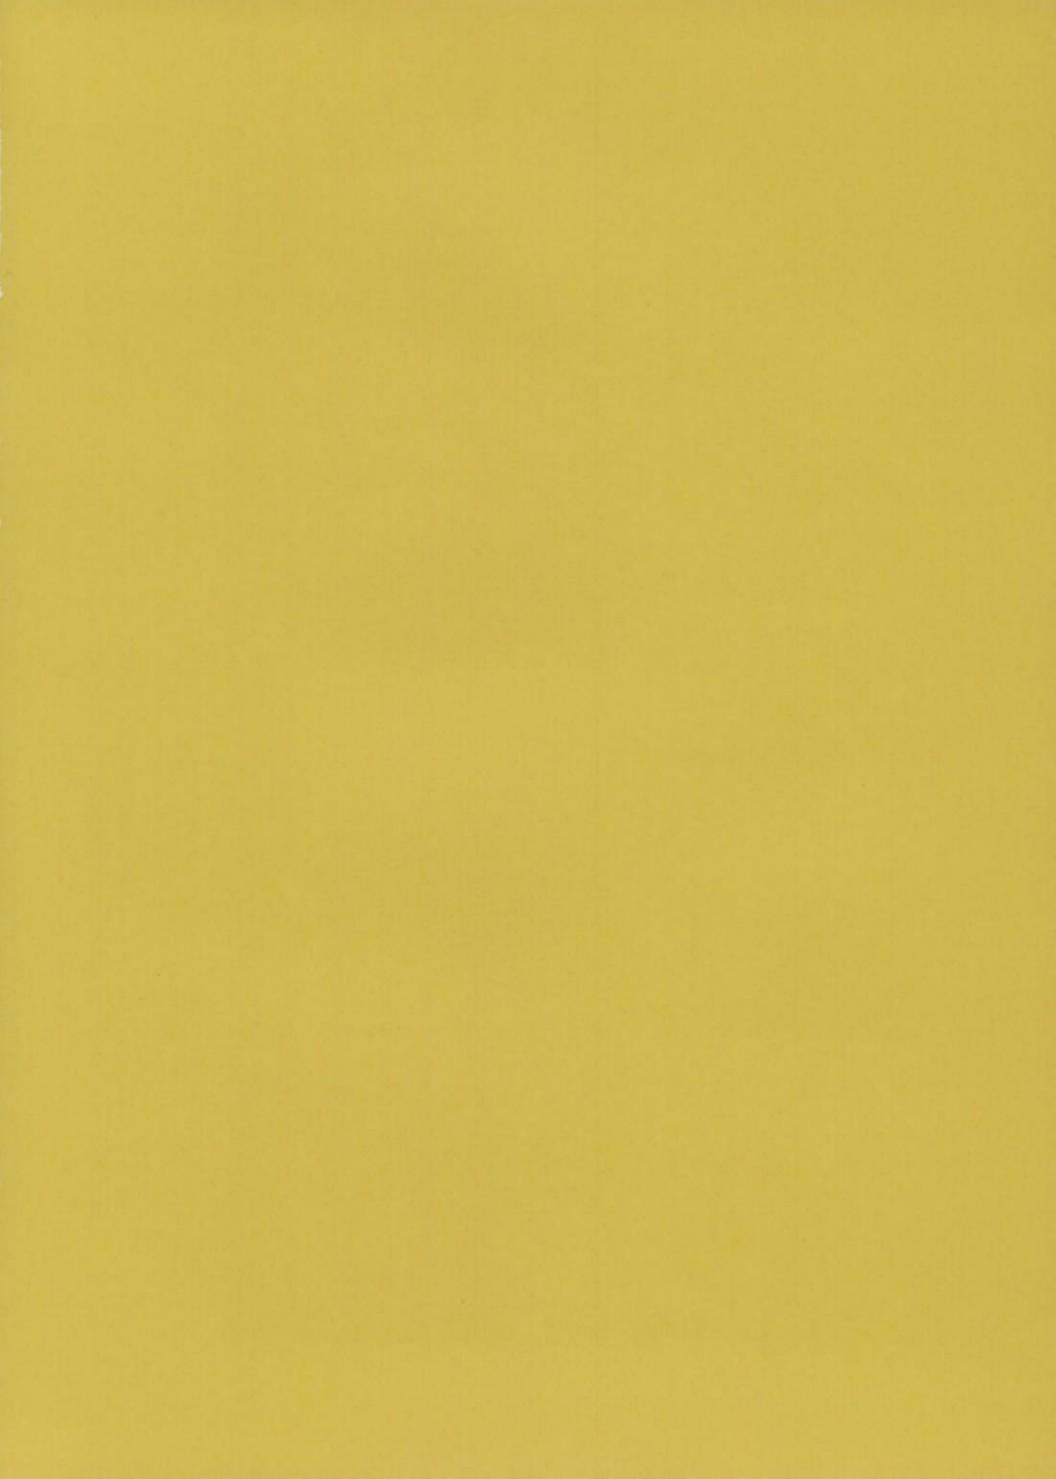

WALTERS, SCOTT 79
